Local Realtors To Study Home Finance Means

Change In Tax System Also Discussed at Meeting of Realty Men

At the regular monthly meeting of the Redwood City District Real Estate board last Tuesday evening, held at the office of the secretary, Emmett Donnelly on Broadway, the question of the organization financing homes for home buyers was taken up and discussed at considerable length. H. W. Schaberg of San Mateo County Building and Loan Association, C. M. Doxsee of the San Mateo County Title Company and T. J. Hallinan of the California Pacific Title Company were present at the meeting and gave their views and experience in the matter. Mr. Schaberg explained the plan carried out by the building and loan association and pledged his organization's co-operation and help in any plan the real estate board might inaugurate in assisting home purchasers in financing their homes.

Following general discussion, it was decided to appoint a finance adjustment committee to work out some plan of co-operation with the building and loan association, and the title companies.

Tax On Real Estate

The importance of encouraging property owners to associate with the district real estate board by becoming property owner members was stressed at the meeting on Tuesday night. The local, state and National real estate associations are carrying on a campaign of education to bring about the co-operation of the property owners, it being felt that in this way and in no other can the tax burdens on real estate be reduced.

Statistics show, according to Secretary Donnelly of the local board, that in 1902 ,the per capita tax on property was $8.25, in 1929 it had increased to $88.14 per capita.

As real estate produces less than 20 per cent of the nation's income, the local, state and national organizations feel that in order to increase home purchases, develop localities and industries, something must be done to equalize this tremendous tax burden.

The California Real Estate Association's plan, as presented a short time ago at the national convention, was adjudged as the most equitable of any on this tax problem.

Highway Ownership

The local board Tuesday night went on record as in favor of all highways running through municipalities and coupling up state highways, being taken over by the state, thus relieving the municipalities and the property owners of the burden of maintaining these links.

San Mateo Woman In Attempted Suictde

Mrs. Helen Annette, 40, socially prominent resident of San Mateo, tried to end her life on Wednesday by jumping from the sixth floor of a San Francisco office building. She was prevented from carrying her plans into effect by her brother Ross Stanley, San Francisco business man, and by the San Francisco police.

The woman is said to have called her brother on the telephone, and stated that she intended to end her life just as soon as she hung up the ceiver. He managed to get a message to the police and continued to engage his sister in conversation on the telephone. He almost failed in his purpose, however, as she hung up before the police arrived and was in the act of climbing out of the window when their arrival saved her from the leap.

She stated that she had been deserted by her husband, Arthur V. Annette, a public accountant, and that she was to be evicted from her home in San Mateo park.

BRIEFS FILED

Judge George H. Buck has taken under advisement briefs filed by attorneys in the suit of Attorney Donald C. Brookes against the city of Gilroy. The suit is for $30,360 and is for engineering fees which Brookes claims are due Charles E. Sloan, former city engineer of that city. The claim has been assigned by Sloan to Brookes.

HILL KILLER TRANSFERRED TO ASYLUM

Murderer of School Teacher Declared To Be Not Of Sane Mind

Word was received here yesterday that Ira Kirk, who was convicted a year ago and sentenced to life imprisonment from this county for the murder of Miss Clara Boeke, a San Francisco school teacher in the hills near Belmont, has been transferred from San Quentin prison to the state insane asylum at Ukiah.

Kirk's murder of the San Francisco teacher last November was one of the most revolting crimes which have occured in this county and was aparently the work of a maniac. He was arrested in San Francisco while in the act of renting an automobile to bring the dead girl's sister to this county with the intention of murdering her also. He had told the sister that Clara was barricaded in an old barn in the county, and that he would let her die there if she did not accompany him. While in the jail here Kirk tried to commit suicide by hanging himself with strips torn from the blanket on his bed.

Kiwanians Hear Talk on Youth

One of the most interesting talks which have been given before the members of the Redwood City Kiwanis club was enjoyed Wednesday when Dr. Lee Alexander Stone, of the United States Public Health Service spoke on the subject of "Are We Giving Our Children a Square Deal?" Dr. Stone spoke on the general conditions which have prevailed throughout the world since the World War, and which he characterized as the jazz age, particularly with reference to the youth of America. "Jazz" stated Dr. Stone, "is the attempt of the primordial mind to return to type." From start to finish Dr. Stone's talk was filled with interest and thinking.

The chairman of the meeting was Dr. Frank Gregory, who proved himself a decided success as a chairman as well as a humorist of no small ability. The club was honored this week by a visit from Lieutenant Governor A. C. Jensen of this Kiwanis district and by Secretary Kisteman of the same district.

Exchange Club Hears Of Its Convention

Members of the Redwood City Exchange club were taken "behind the curtains" in the matter of the Exchange convention which was recently held in Indianopolis. The speaker was Joseph Archer of the National Exchange Club, who was manager for the national convention. The convention was termed by the speaker to be the best convention ever held by Exchange, and he declared that the talk on aviation made by Rear Admiral Byrd at the convention to be one of the finest things in history.

The chairman of the meeting was Colin Stokes. Some musical numbers were given on the mouth organ by "Harmonica Mike" Sullivan. It was reported that the membership of the Exchange Club had enrolled 100 per cent in the Red Cross.

LETTERS ASKED FOR IN COSTA ESTATE

Yesterday afternoon Manuel S. Costa, through his attorney, James T. O'Keefe, petitioned the superior court for letters of administration upon the estate of his father, Manuel Costa, who died recently at Ravenswood leaving an estate valued at $67,000. It consists of cash in the bank amounting to $7,000 and real property worth $60,000.

POLICE OFFICER HELD FOR MILLS SHOOTING

Hennessy Held to Answer on Manslaughter Charge for Killing at Belmont Cafe; Charges Against Casey Dropped at Preliminary Hearing Wednesday

Following a preliminary hearing in the court of Justice of the Peace J. J. McGrath of San Mateo, John J. Hennessey, suspended police officer of San Mateo, faces a charge of manslaughter for the shooting of Jack Mills, Belmont cafe proprietor. Tom Casey, who was taken into custody with Hennessey, was freed of any charge at the same hearing.

The testimony given at the hearing followed quite closely that given at the inquest held into the shooting of Mills. One new fact was brought out, however. This was that Mills was not alone in the house when he was shot.

The new information was contained in the testimony of Gilbert Morris, who had left Casey at his Belmont establishment about half an hour before the shooting took place, and returned to find Mills shot and Hennessey and Casey leaving the place.

Morris was asked by Attorney McCurdy, who represented Henessey, whether Mills was alone at the cafe at the time when he left the place just before the shooting. "He was not alone," Morris stated.

"Was it a man or a woman who was with him?" asked McCurdy. "A woman," Morris answered.

Morris told the court that when he left the place the cafe was lighted and the door unlocked. When he returned the lights had been turned out and the doors were locked.

The story of the shooting as told by the various witnesses is that Hennessey and Casey, after a party at the home of friends in Burlingame, drove to Belmont, when, as Casey told Sargeant Steels of the San Mateo police, "the liquor ran short." It is understood that they expected to secure more from Mills, but were unable to arouse the cafe man. Hennessey is then reported to have attempted to have aroused him by shooting out a light on Mills' place.

The shot intended for the light, passed through the door and struck Mills himself, who was coming to open the door. The shot entered the man's abdomen and punctured the intestines eight times, according to a report at the hospital.

Mills staggered through the door clutching an automatic and calling for help. Just then Gilbert S. Morris, also of San Mateo, drove up and took Mills in his car to the Community hospital. Casey and Hennessey accompanied him and were found in Morris' house by Sergeant Steele.

Casey was represented at the hearing by Attorneys Hall C. Ross and William Schweigert. Casey's part in the matter, the attorneys stated, could not be construed as manslaughter. They stated that the shooting as far as Casey was concerned was only a "prank." Assistant District Attorney Richard Bell, who conducted the case for the prosecution, made no objection to the plea of Casey's attorneys for the dismissal of the charges against him.

Hennessey's action, however, Bell maintained was one of criminal negligence.

Among the other witnesses called at the hearing were Dr. W. C. Chidester, who performed the autopsy and who identified the bullet which was removed from Mills at the post mortem; Chief of Police Irwin Hansen of Belmont; and Deputy Sheriff Farrell.

Following the hearing an information was filed against Hennessey by Assistant District Attorney Bell, charging Hennessey with manslaughter. He was arraigned in the superior court yesterday afternoon. He is now at liberty on $5000 bond bail.

WELL-KNOWN RESIDENT PASSES AWAY TUESDAY

Jules Guerra, well-known resident of this section and of La Honda, was laid to rest yesterday following a funeral service at the parlors of Layng & Tinney. The service was conducted by the Rev. C. H. Stevens, and was followed by interment in Alta Mesa cemetery.

The deceased was the husband of Mrs. Fannie Guerra, and was the father of Frank P. Guerra of this city, and Mrs. Marie Meyer of Gilroy, and of Mrs. Catherine Lera of Millbrae. In addition to these relatives he is survived by a brother, Felix Guerra, of this city, and a sister, Mrs. Rose Cavalli of Redwood City. He had been a resident of California for the past 49 years, and of this section for 15 years.

in the feature Saturday. Some of the finest Western breds are being given daily workouts at Tanforan in an attempt to whip them into shape for the breeders stake. Mi Concha, Kamalii, Lady Conrad, Sun B, San Clemente, Warlight and Miss Joan are among those likely to compete against the topnotch trio.

The breeders purse is being offered as an incentive to Pacific coast stables who have invested more than $10,000,000 in the breeding industry and until Tanforan opened, had no outlet for their mounts except on Eastern tracks. This home market is expected to do much in promoting the Western breeding.

While the 25-day meeting got off to a disappointing start Saturday, more than 7,000 persons attended in spite of the bad weather. Fair skies are expected this week and an attendance of more than 15,000 is anticipated to see the first of the big stake matches . Post time will be at 1:45 promptly.

Telegrams Sent to Hoover Urge Early Decision On Rail Line

The San Mateo Building Trades Council has added its voice to that of the Peninsula Industrial Conference, and other civic organizations of the county in a plea to President Hoover to use his influence to secure a quick decision from the Interstate Commerce Commission on the petition of the Western Pacific line down the peninsula. A telegram has been sent to the president by this group this week. Other telegrams have been sent by the Peninsula Industrial Conference, the city of Redwood City and other organizations of the peninsula.

It is felt that the decision of the Interstate Railway Commission will be favorable to the construction of the line, and that a speedy decision will start activities all along the peninsula.

On Way to Visit Kin Injured by Auto

Mrs. Emma Heard of Bakersfield was motoring north to visit her cousin, Frank Wentworth at Mills Memorial Hospital where he is resuperating from the effects of an accident when he was struck by an automobile in Redwood City last week. Her car, which was a Cadillac Sedan was struck by a Ford car and was almost completely demolished. Mrs. Heard was thrown into the back seat and suffered no worse injuries than bruises and to be badly shaken up. She was taken to the hospital at San Jose and expects to leave there in day or two.

Mrs. Heard is a cousin of Mrs. Norris Cummings and by strange fate, a third member of the family, George Durham, a brother, was also hurt in an automobile accident this month and is recovering from his hurts at the home of Dr. and Mrs. N. C. Cummings.

Sequoia to Play Palo Alto Today For Second Place

Determined to win a P. A. L. second place, since a championship is now impossible, the Sequoia 110's will go into their game today against Palo Alto fighting their best. The 110's were beaten Friday by San Jose, but have found their stride again and hope to beat Paly.

It is hard to rate the Red and Green team because of the fact that it lost to South City, the supposedly worst team in the league, and beat San Mateo, who has a 110-pound team that is considered very highly.

The Sequoia 120's will have a hard time defeating Captain Jew's team, but they will be sure to put up a battle.

The same lineup as last week will be used and therefore should have better team play than heretofore.

Electrolier Decorations To Be Feature of City's Big Celebration

Preparaticns were in full swing this week for the community Christmas celebration to be held here on the evening of Wednesday, December 3. The celebration this year is being handled by the Retailers, and plans for the event have been made by a committee consisting of K. B. Towne, chairman, Albert Davies, Mark Ryan, Bob Murphy, Milton Hinds, George McQueen Harry Gelbman, Clarence Choate, Walter Hilton and James Hearne.

Large pictures depicting Mother Goose Rhymes are being prepared by Mr. Doxsee. These pictures are to be 4 by 8 feet and will be placed on 80 of the electrollers in the business district of the town. The electroliers will also be decorated with evergreens. The decoration of the electroliers and of the large Christmas tree is being done by Earl Rush.

The tree, a fine specimen of fir, was donated for the celebration by the Bear Gulch Water Co. and has been placed in front of the court house, where it is now being decorated. On December 3rd, it has been arranged to have Santa Claus arrive here in person to distribute some little gifts to the children of the community.

Arrangements were completed this week to have the old gentleman come, and in order that he may not be inconvenienced, an aeroplane has been secured for his use on that occasion.

Services Held Here For Henry Finkler

Funeral services were held yesterday from the parlors of Layng & Tinney for H. C. Finkler. The services were under the auspices of Redwood City Lodge No. 168 F. & A. M. and were conducted by Walter Hilton as master.

The deceased had been for the past 52 years secretary to the judges of the supreme court of the state, a position which his father had held for many years before him. One of the most striking tributes ever to be given at a funeral in this city was paid to his memory by his lifelong friend, Cheif Justice William Waste of the supreme court, who in a five minute eulogy, told of the sterling qualities of the man whose entire life had been spent in the service of this court. The funeral was attended by Judges Richards, Sewell and Schink, all of the supreme court, and by many friends and associates of the deceased.

Following the services, internment took place in the Masonic plot at Union cemetery.

H. C. Finkler had been a resident of this city for the past 28 years, residing on Cordileras road just west of this city. He commuted to San Francisco every day for his work in the court.

On Tuesday after calling Deputy Coroner John Layng and asking him to come to his place he ended his life by firing a shot into his heart. Layng feared that the man may have become demented and asked Walter Hilton to accompany him. Finkler appeared normal when they arrived, but leaving them near the house entered a small canyon in the rear of the house and killed himself with a revolver.

No reason has been ascribed for his act except that he may have been suffering from ill health, and had been living a lonesome existance in his estate since the death of his wife several years ago.

FORGES MOTHER'S NAME

J. P. Wilson, 30, of this city was booked at the county jail yesterday on a charge of forgery preferred by his mother, Mrs. Dora Wilson, whose name he is alleged to have forged to a small check. The check was cashed at the Lock Drug store.

USES PHONE FOR CAMPAIGN

MELROSE, Mass. (UP)—The value of the telephone as a political campaign medium was demonstrated by Mrs. Mary Livermore Barrows at the recent state election. Though confined to bed by illness, she managed to conduct a telephone campaign which netted enough votes to insure her re-election to the Massachusetts Legislature.

Minnie and George

To most of the residents of Redwood City today the names of two streets Minnie and George, are just names and have no significance. A petition has been filed to have these names changed to California and Montgomery street. A few of the old timers recall the origin of the names which are linked with the early days in this town.

Minnie and George were the daughter and the son of Charles N. Fox, one of the pioneer attorneys of this city, and a man of wide attainments. The fox home occupied the site of the present Union Oil station, and the tract containing the two streets was laid out by Fox on a part of his holdings, and the two streets which he plotted he named for his two children.

Fox was one of the most prominent citizens of the county at that time, he was an attorney, was editor of the Times-Gazette, served as district attorney and was later a judge of the supreme court. He was a brother of George Fox, another pioneer attorney of this city. He was editor of the Times-Gazette during the Civil War, and an ardent Union man.

Three neices and a nephew of Charles Fox are still prominent residents of this city. They are Mrs. Zoe Thorpe, Mrs. L. Otzen and Mrs. Charles Dimmitt; and Claude Fox.

The proposed names have no local signifigance, and are already intimately connected with San Francisco. They may be more impressive than the present appellations, but are without the interest which comes from the connections with those who were important in days gone by.

As to the original Minnie and George, both have long since joined their illustrious father in the Great Hereafter. Minnie was married to a young German, and spent the latter part of her life in Germany. George was the victim of a railway accident in the San Joaquin valley. Their memory remains with a few of the old time residents of this city and in the names of the two streets which are now proposed to be changed.

Interest Shown In Racing Meet

Six Furlong Feature For Western Horses Is Big Event

Interest of turfmen and fans in the racing meet at Tanforan turned today to the Pacific Coast Breeders Handicap, the six-furlong feature at the San Bruno track Saturday which will be worth at least $5,000, the first major stake of the meeting this fall. This feature will be exclusively for horses foaled in either California or Nevada.

In this feature three horses stand out as probable leaders at present, Don Alvaro, owned by Bert Baroni; DeSwasey of the J. W. Marchban stable, and Bonield, Peter B. Kyne's hopeful, looms now as the trio most likely to put up the battle for the purse. There will likely be some sixteen horses called to the post for this race when the bugle sounds.

In this trio those familiar with the sport of kings give Don Alvaro the edge, due to his very fine showing in Chicago and his present excellent condition. Charles Corbett, noted jockey, will ride the favorite. Don Alvaro is California bred, having been sired in San Diego by Baron Long.

DeSwasey, from the Heather Farm stables of Marchbank, is new to the game, his race on the opening day having been his first time to the track. He gave a good account of himself last Saturday by finishing third to Seguro and Annie D. Of the three Marchbank horses eligible to participate in the feature, DeSwasey is given the preference, and if the track should be muddy his strength will be greatly enhanced. He proved Saturday that he rather liked slopping though the mud, while on the other hand Don Alvaro is a fast track horse.

Bonfield was among those that also ran last Saturday, however, that race cannot be held against the Kyne entry, because back in Chicago he proved beyond any doubt that he was capable of much better things. The noted novellist is extremely optimistic about what his horse will do in the handicap this week, and has told his old friends in San Mateo county where he passed his boyhood days, that Bonfield will be out in front.

The Kyne horse is by Bon Homme, one of the outstanding new sires of the Pacific coast, and was bred by Major Sven Christenson. It is likely that Georgie Woolf will be up on Bonfiled.

There will be other good horses in the feature Saturday. Some of the finest Western breds are being given daily workouts at Tanforan in an attempt to whip them into shape for the breeders stake. Mi Concha, Kamalii, Lady Conrad, Sun B, San Clemente, Warlight and Miss Joan are among those likely to compete against the topnotch trio.

The breeders purse is being offered as an incentive to Pacific coast stables who have invested more than $10,000,000 in the breeding industry and until Tanforan opened, had no outlet for their mounts except on Eastern tracks. This home market is expected to do much in promoting the Western breeding.

While the 25-day meeting got off to a disappointing start Saturday, more than 7,000 persons attended in spite of the bad weather. Fair skies are expected this week and an attendance of more than 15,000 is anticipated to see the first of the big stake matches. Post time will be at 1:45 promptly.

Lost Plane Found Wrecked in South

Brother and Sister of Lost Pilot Residents of Burlingame

LEBEG, Calif., Nov 19 (UP)—The snarled wreckage of a Pacific Air Transport mail plane that crashed into a mountainside in a blizzard was found late today, its three occupants killed by impact.

E. Newson, an old cowpuncher, discovered the wreckage in the snow, seven miles northeast of the Antelope Emergency airport, and ended a search that had called out 20 airplanes and 250 men for more than 36 hours.

In the open cockpit was the body of Flavius Donaldson, pilot. Thrown from the cabin ahead, the bodies of George Rogers, mechanic, and Miss Jean Markow, passenger, lay a few feet from the wreckage.

Grant Donaldson, a brother of the pilot, and Mrs. Faye Clinite, his sister, are residents of Burlingame. The brother, also a pilot, has been searching for the plane since its disappearance Monday.

Student Suffers Amnesia Attack

Eugene Bone, graduate of Sequoia Union high school of this city and now a student at the College of the Pacific at Stockton in music and drama, caused his relatives and friends considerable worry when he disappeared from the campus on Tuesday and was not heard from until Wednesday evening when he was located at the home of a friend, Graydon Voorhees in Piedemont.

Bone had suffered slightly from amnesia last week and it was thought he might have had a recurrence of the attack.

His disappearance was broadcast over the radio, Wednesday evening.

Yomecan Club Told Of Printing Trade

Henry Moore, a member of the Yomecan Club, was the main speaker at the meeting of this club on Wednesday evening at the Sequoia Hotel. He gave a very interesting talk on his vocation, that of printing. Stanley Netherton was chairman of the meeting. Ed Greeley, the president, is working hard to make the meeting next week a very interesting one. Wm. "Red" Kelley who was formerly a coach at Sequoia High School, has been secured a speaker.

Local Realtors To Study Home Finance Means

Change In Tax System Also Discussed at Meeting of Realty Men

At the regular monthly meeting of the Redwood City District Real Estate board last Tuesday evening, held at the office of the secretary, Emmett Donnelly on Broadway, the question of the organization financing homes for home buyers was taken up and discussed at considerable length. H. W. Schaberg of San Mateo County Building and Loan Association, C. M. Doxsee of the San Mateo County Title Company and T. J. Hallinan of the California Pacific Title Company were present at the meeting and gave their views and experience in the matter. Mr. Schaberg explained the plan carried out by the building and loan association and pledged his organization's co-operation and help in any plan the real estate board might inaugurate in assisting home purchasers in financing their homes.

Following general discussion, it was decided to appoint a finance adjustment committee to work out some plan of co-operation with the building and loan association, and the title companies.

Tax On Real Estate

The importance of encouraging property owners to associate with the district real estate board by becoming property owner members was stressed at the meeting on Tuesday night. The local, state and National real estate associations are carrying on a campaign of education to bring about the co-operation of the property owners, it being felt that in this way and in no other can the tax burdens on real estate be reduced.

Statistics show, according to Secretary Donnelly of the local board, that in 1902 ,the per capita tax on property was $8.25, in 1929 it had increased to $88.14 per capita.

As real estate produces less than 20 per cent of the nation's income, the local, state and national organizations feel that in order to increase home purchases, develop localities and industries, something must be done to equalize this tremendous tax burden.

The California Real Estate Association's plan, as presented a short time ago at the national convention, was adjudged as the most equitable of any on this tax problem.

Highway Ownership

The local board Tuesday night went on record as in favor of all highways running through municipalities and coupling up state highways, being taken over by the state, thus relieving the municipalities and the property owners of the burden of maintaining these links.

San Mateo Woman In Attempted Suictde

Mrs. Helen Annette, 40, socially prominent resident of San Mateo, tried to end her life on Wednesday by jumping from the sixth floor of a San Francisco office building. She was prevented from carrying her plans into effect by her brother Ross Stanley, San Francisco business man, and by the San Francisco police.

The woman is said to have called her brother on the telephone, and stated that she intended to end her life just as soon as she hung up the celver. He managed to get a message to the police and continued to engage his sister in conversation on the telephone. He almost failed in his purpose, however, as she hung up before the police arrived and was in the act of climbing out of the window when their arrival saved her from the leap.

She stated that she had been deserted by her husband, Arthur V. Annette, a public accountant, and that she was to be evicted from her home in San Mateo park.

BRIEFS FILED

Judge George H. Buck has taken under advisement briefs filed by attorneys in the suit of Attorney Donald C. Brookes against the city of Gilroy. The suit is for $30,260 and is for engineering fees which Brookes claims are due Charles E. Sloan, former city engineer of that city. The claim has been assigned by Sloan to Brookes.

POLICE OFFICER HELD FOR MILLS SHOOTING

Hennessy Held to Answer on Manslaughter Charge for Killing at Belmont Cafe; Charges Against Casey Dropped at Preliminary Hearing Wednesday

Following a preliminary hearing in the court of Justice of the Peace J. J. McGrath of San Mateo, John J. Hennessey, suspended police officer of San Mateo, faces a charge of manslaughter for the shooting of Jack Mills, Belmont cafe proprietor. Tom Casey, who was taken into custody with Hennessey, was freed of any charge at the same hearing.

The testimony given at the hearing followed quite closely that given at the inquest held into the shooting of Mills. One new fact was brought out, however. This was that Mills was not alone in the house when he was shot.

The new information was contained in the testimony of Gilbert Morris, who had left Casey at his Belmont establishment about half an hour before the shooting took place, and returned to find Mills shot and Hennessey and Casey leaving the place.

Morris was asked by Attorney McCurdy, who represented Henessey, whether Mills was alone at the cafe at the time when he left the place just before the shooting. "He was not alone," Morris stated.

"Was it a man or a woman who was with him?" asked McCurdy. "A woman," Morris answered.

Morris told the court that when he left the place the cafe was lighted and the door unlocked. When he returned the lights had been turned out and the doors were locked.

The story of the shooting as told by the various witnesses is that Hennessey and Casey, after a party at the home of friends in Burlingame, drove to Belmont, when, as Casey told Sargeant Steels of the San Mateo police, "the liquor ran short." It is understood that they expected to secure more from Mills, but were unable to arouse the cafe man. Hennessey is then reported to have attempted to have aroused him by shooting out a light on Mills' place.

The shot intended for the light, passed through the door and struck Mills himself, who was coming to open the door. The shot entered the man's abdomen and punctured the intestines eight times, according to a report at the hospital.

Mills staggered through the door clutching an automatic and calling for help. Just then Gilbert S. Morris, also of San Mateo, drove up, and took Mills in his car to the Community hospital. Casey and Hennessey accompanied him and were found in Morris' house by Sergeant Steele.

Casey was represented at the hearing by Attorneys Hall C. Ross and William Schweigert. Casey's part in the matter, the attorneys stated, could not be construed as manslaughter. They stated that the shooting as far as Casey was concerned was only a "prank." Assistant District Attorney Richard Bell, who conducted the case for the prosecution, made no objection to the plea of Casey's attorneys for the dismissal of the charges against him.

Hennessey's action, however, Bell maintained was one of criminal negligence.

Among the other witnesses called at the hearing were Dr. W. C. Chidester, who performed the autopsy and who identified the bullet which was removed from Mills at the post mortem; Chief of Police Irwin Hansen of Belmont; and Deputy Sheriff Farrell.

Following the hearing an information was filed against Hennessey by Assistant District Attorney Bell, charging Hennessey with manslaughter. He was arraigned in the superior court yesterday afternoon. He is now at liberty on $5000 bond bail.

HILL KILLER TRANSFERRED TO ASYLUM

Murderer of School Teacher Declared To Be Not Of Sane Mind

Word was received here yesterday that Ira Kirk, who was convicted a year ago and sentenced to life imprisonment from this county for the murder of Miss Clara Boeke, a San Francisco school teacher in the hills near Belmont, has been transferred from San Quentin prison to the state insane asylum at Ukiah.

Kirk's murder of the San Francisco teacher last November was one of the most revolting crimes, which have occured in this county and was aparently the work of a maniac. He was arrested in San Francisco while in the act of renting an automobile to bring the dead girl's sister to this county with the intention of murdering her also. He had told the sister that Clara was barricaded in an old barn in the county, and that he would let her die there if she did not accompany him. While in the jail here Kirk tried to commit suicide by hanging himself with strips torn from the blanket on his bed.

Kiwanians Hear Talk on Youth

One of the most interesting talks which have been given before the members of the Redwood City Kiwanis club was enjoyed Wednesday when Dr. Lee Alexander Stone, of the United States Public Health Service spoke on the subject of "Are We Giving Our Children a Square Deal?" Dr. Stone spoke on the general conditions which have prevailed throughout the world since the World War, and which he characterized as the jazz age, particularly with reference to the youth of America. "Jazz" stated Dr. Stone, "is the attempt of the primordial mind to return to type." From start to finish Dr. Stone's talk was filled with interest and thinking.

The chairman of the meeting was Dr. Frank Gregory, who proved himself a decided success as a chairman as well as a humorist of no small ability. The club was honored this week by a visit from Lieutenant Governor A. C. Jensen of this Kiwanis district and by Secretary Kisteman of the same district.

Some musical numbers were provided by "Harmonica Mike" and his harmonica.

Exchange Club Hears Of Its Convention

Members of the Redwood City Exchange club were taken "behind the curtains" in the matter of the Exchange convention which was recently held in Indianopolis. The speaker was Joseph Archer of the National Exchange Club, who was manager for the national convention. The convention was termed by the speaker to be the best convention ever held by Exchange, and he declared that the talk on aviation made by Rear Admiral Byrd at the convention to be one of the finest things in history.

The chairman of the meeting was Colin Stokes. Some musical numbers were given on the mouth organ by "Harmonica Mike" Sullivan. It was reported that the membership of the Exchange Club had enrolled 100 per cent in the Red Cross.

LETTERS ASKED FOR IN COSTA ESTATE

Yesterday afternoon Manuel S. Costa, through his attorney, James T. O'Keefe, petitioned the superior court for letters of administration upon the estate of his father, Manuel Costa, who died recently at Ravenswood leaving an estate valued at $67,000. It consists of cash in the bank amounting to $7,000 and real property worth $60,000.

WELL-KNOWN RESIDENT PASSES AWAY TUESDAY

Jules Guerra, well-known resident of this section and of La Honda, was laid to rest yesterday following a funeral service at the parlors of Layng & Tinney. The service was conducted by the Rev. C. H. Stevens, and was followed by interment in Alta Mesa cemetery.

The deceased was the husband of Mrs. Fannie Guerra, and was the father of Frank P. Guerra of this city, and Mrs. Marie Meyer of Gilroy, and of Mrs. Catherine Lera of Millbrae. In addition to these relatives he is survived by a brother, Felix Guerra, of this city, and a sister, Mrs. Rose Cavalli of Redwood City. He had been a resident of California for the past 49 years, and of this section for 15 years.

Harvey M. Toy

By D. E. O'KEEFE

Among the important appointments to be made by James Rolph, Jr., when he assumes the office of governor next January will be that of Director of public works, a position now held by Bert B. Meeks. This department of the state government has to do with the building and maintaining the highways, a very important unit of the state government, requiring the head of the department to be a man of ability, energy, possessing public spirit and having a knowledge of road construction, and the needs of the state in its highway building. In other words he should be familiar with the highway system of the state. Such a man is Harvey M. Toy, the San Francisco capitalist. Mr. Toy was the president of the highway commission under the Richardson administration and may truly be called the father of the new highway system of the state, for it was under his regime that the actual effort of the present network of roads was commenced and continued under Meeks. It was Harvey Toy who conceived and planned the Bayshore Boulevard. It was Mr. Toy who started the Skyline boulevard, and planned its construction. Road building is Mr. Toy's hobby. It is an obsession with him. He is a man of wealth, proud of his native state and wishes to see it have the very best road system in the country, where men can come from the East to enjoy the sunshine of California, with their automobiles roll over the smooth thoroughfares to the historic places of the state. Mr. Toy is a believer of sunshine and good roads. Both bring joy to the heart of the tourist. California is rapidly becoming the Mecca of the traveler. Good roads will lure him. With Mr. Toy as director of public works the people of the state may feel assured that the road system will be enlarged and the work carried on in an efficient and economical manner. Mr. Toy would give it his whole attention and with his experience and ability, he would be a valuable man in the position. It is to be hoped that Mr. Rolph may see his way to appoint Mr. Toy director of public works. The people of the state would hail such an appointment with enthusiasm. It would be a popular selection, one that would bring to the heart of every automobile owner and to the admirer of good roads. Mr. Toy is honest, capable and experienced and with his fund of knowledge of the thoroughfares of the state he would bring the road system to a high mark of perfection. Mr. Toy is a Rolph admirer. During the primary campaign he was in the midst of the contest rendering splendid service to the Rolph cause. His selection would be received with genuine enthusiasm.

Golden Rule Week

With poverty and unemployment widespread even in fertile and prosperous quarters of the world, the needs of children in areas affected by drought, famine, war and economic exploitation are greater than ever. The Golden Rule Foundation of New York urges generous contributions to these neglected ones on Golden Rule Sunday, December 7, and throughout Golden Rule Week, December 7 to 14.

Areas of need in the world for which appeals are being stressed are Porto Rico, where 200,000 children are found to be suffering from prolonged undernourishment; China, with its millions of innocent child victims of war, famine and destitution; India, with her age-old wrongs, and with new problems of child labor in its great mill centers; Europe with thousands of uprooted families, expatriates, for whom the future is black unless the world gives a care; America herself with at least a million underprivileged children in the Southern Mountains cut off from education and normal childhood by isolation, poverty and neglect; a vast and growing army of Child Migrants, who trek from the Mexican border to the Canadian line harvesting and canning the fruit and vegetable crops, homeless, and without education and living a joyless childhood; neglected American Indian children, wards of our Government in boarding schools that have given them neither proper food, education nor training for life; and, in Mexico the children in 7,000 rural villages, where schools have but recently been established in an effort to stamp out illiteracy.

Contributions made during Golden Rule week, if forwarded to The Foundation, Lincoln Building, New York, will be sent in full to the need designated by the donor.

The next time you hear someone squaking about hard times ask him if he remembers when he wore a pair of brogran shoes and used a tube of an old newspaper instead of match when he lighted the coal oil lamp.

The 1930 Meaning of Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving this year has taken on a new aspect. Although Thanksgiving was primarily religious in its observance, as it is the only religious festival celebrated in the United States by authority of the Federal Government, it has long been recognized as a time for gathering around the home fires to eat a huge dinner in celebration of such prosperity as one may enjoy. This year, however, it has grown to mean more a season of friendship and expression of good wishes extending beyond the family circle.

This new Thanksgiving spirit is seen in the increased number of "friendship" greeting cards which are making their appearance. These 1930 versions of the Thanksgiving message all carry expressions of sincere esteem, with wishes for prosperity foremost among the sentiments expressed. One card typically asserts that "among the many things I am grateful for is the joy of your friendship," while another declares: "The Thanksgiving spirit moves me to wish you health, happiness and prosperity." A natural development of the broader Thanksgiving significance ,is seen also in the increased number of greeting cards designed especially for Mother, Father, Buddy, Sweetheart, or "Home Folks." Cheerfulness is the watchword, sincerity the keynote, of all the cards, which are invariably in appropriate harvest-home colors of russet, yellow, buff and gold.

Thanksgiving as it was first set apart in 1621 by the Pilgrim Fathers gave pause for contemplation of the bounties of the harvest and was dedicated to the purpose of offering thanks to God. By 1864, when the day first attained the distinction of becoming a national holiday by presidential proclamation, it was a war-torn nation that followed Abraham Lincoln to church and bent its knees in prayer. The new Thanksgiving was born of the World War and its aftermirth, when the great need of gathering together family ties, of standing together, brought a general urge toward neighborliness and wider friendships.

American Education

American Education Week was observed recently. In thousands of communities, citizens visited their schools. Teachers visited the homes. Fraternal orders, the American Legion, Parent-Teacher Associations, business and professional organizations, women's clubs and churches observed this week with special educational programs. Newspapers, magazines, the radio, pulpit and platform speakers gave special attention to the aims, needs, and achievements of the schools.

It is evident that American Education Week is fast becoming a great national festival during which citizens redevote themselves to the principle of a fair start in life for every child—a system of state-supported schools, free and open to every child from the kindergarten to the university.

Yet, it is not enough that special attention should be devoted to the schools during this one week in the year. The continuous interest of parents and citizens in the American schools is essential to their success. Parents were the world's first teachers. To a considerable extent they will always be teachers. From time immemorial, the moral and mental growth of the child has been nurtured in the home. The necessity for this labor is still the strongest tie the home has, the most important reason for its existence. This responsibility cannot be relegated without further thought to an institution. The schools must always remain close to the hearts of the American people.

The schools of yesterday are a fond memory in the minds of all who attended them. Their good work should not be forgotten. In the "Little Red Schoolhouse" were laid the foundations for noble character. Those to whose prosperity it has ministered may well pay it tribute.

The schools of tomorrow are closely tied up with the future of America. It is appropriate to consider them as we take stock of the schools of today. How shall our schools adapt themselves to the needs of a changing world? The schools of tomorrow will differ as much from the schools of today as our present schools do from the "Little Red Schoolhouse."

Thought directed during American Education Week to these vital problems will make a difference in the work of the schools. An active interest on the part of citizens and parents throughout the year and the years to come will greatly enhance the value of the contribution of these institutions to American life.—Belmont Farley, Assistant Director, Division of Publications, N. E. A.

Real Estate Eloquence

Literary experts in the real estate field awarded a pedestal in their hall of fame to P. G. Wodehouse, the British novelist. In his latest story, "Big Money," now running in Collier's Weekly, he describes a British suburban development as follows: "Valley Fields, as far as a cursory inspection indicated, appeared to be the sort of place an American song writer would want to go back, back, back to."

The building and loan associations of Illinois have shown a friendly disposition to aid the unemployment situation by helping to finance the repairing of homes.

Love's Sacrifice

By Mildred Barbour

Dr. Randolph seemed to have very little to say, and apparently he had forgotten Sally completely.

CONCERNING THE ACTION AND CHARACTERS

Sally Todd and Lois Montgomery leave home to seek their fortunes in New York.

Sally's brother, Bert, who is in love with Lois, follows them.

Lois meets a young man whom she knew when she was a wealthy woman's secretary.

He and a chap named FRISBY show her and Sally little attention, but Lois' thoughts are chiefly on the problems of existence.

Lois finally gets a job with a firm of interior decorators. Sally struggles for a foothold in the movies. They have a hard time making both ends meet.

Sally enters hospital training, finally convinced that the films ho no future for her.

Lois is absorbed i nher own work.

During her employer's illness, she is sent to the palatial residence of James Walton to make a preliminary report.

Sally's liking for gay company causes a coolness between herself and Lois.

It also involves Lois in difficulties with Bert.

Lois is strongly attracted to Walton, who is much older than herself, and very rich and distinguished. —She finds him very cold and domineering.

—He demands she give up her friendship with Sally.

Sally, meanwhile, is in hot water at the hospital, because she is too fond of a good time.

Chapter 24

After an especially gay party she is assigned in an emergency to night duty.

She falls asleep while waiting for the special nurse to come, and the patient, in her delirium, rushes from the room and jumps from a window. By a miracle she escapes with minor injuries, but Sally's fate is sealed.

Unfit

She is dismissed in disgrace just before graduation.

Chapter 30.

Dr. Dale Randolph, out of sympathey, offers her a position in his office. He does not guess that Sally, while at the hospital, occasionally used drugs to bloster up her energies after gay parties.

Lois provides Sally with a little home in the country.

Sally falls in love with Dr. Randolph, who has no idea of her feeling for him.

Randolph meets Lois and likes her at once.

Chapter 33.

The Meeting

While Sally and Lois were at lunch, Dr. Dale Randolph sat in his office, lost in thoughts that had nothing to do with the practice of medicine. If Sally had had any idea of what was passing through his mind, she would have been more than astonished. And he, had he known that she was telling Lois how much she loved him, would have been speechless with amazement.

As he sat at his handsome, orderly desk and drew geometric designs on a sheet of paper, he kept seeing Lois's face. Sally had occasionally spoken of her "fairy godmother," as she called Lois, but Dr. Randolph had taken it for granted that she was a middle-aged woman. Now he wondered just what it was that had given him that idea. Why she was beautiful — the most beautiful woman he had ever seen.

He waited about the office until Sally returned from lunch, although that made him very late for an appointment. He wanted to hear something about Lois. It was not hard to extract information from Sally.

"She's Mrs. Walton — you know, my fairy godmother," Sally explained. "The one who gave me the the house I live in. I'd like to have you see it sometime, she added shyly.

"Yes, of course," Dr. Randolph responded. "You say she lives on Long Island?"

"In a most beautiful home," replied Sally. "She struck it rich — all but the husband, that is. He's an old crab. I have an idea that she's none too happy. But she never says anything about that. She's the dignified sort."

Dr. Randolph told himself that she would be. And she was married —unhappily married, too. Well, well! He stared out of the window and fidgeted about the room. Sally was looking over some records. He didn't want to ask any further questions, and she seemed to have gotten onto something else.

He took his hat and stick and walked out. Half an hour later he came back to earth with a start, and realized that he had forgotten all about his appointment.

Luncheon with Lois had done Sally a great deal of good. She had told her friend all her troubles— without exception. And Lois had listened sympathetically, as always. She hadn't said a word about the things that were worrying her. That was characteristic of Lois. And she had given Sally some sound advice, although she had not the slightest hope that the scatter-brained youngster would act on it.

"You see, Lois, he's not my sort," Sally had wailed, when she laid her problem before Lois. "You're the sort of person he likes. I'm not — well, I'm just not a lady, I guess. And he likes ladies. The real kind, like you."

"Nonsence," Lois had returned loyally. "You're good enough for any man. It's just that you underrate yourself, because you've always had to get along without the opportunities that you think are essential to social standing. If you were to meet Dr. Randolph outside of the office, I dare say he'd think you very charming."

She was wishing that she could give a dinner for Sally at her own home, and have Dale Randolph and a few other young people. But she knew that her husband would not allow that.

"Why don't you have him at your house occasionally?" she suggested.

"Oh, that's no good," said Sally grumpily. 'I tried to get him out for tea several times on Sunday afternoons — you remember — but he's always got an excuse. He just can't see me."

But just then she had an idea that she kept to herself. She would get Dale Randolph out to her house by a very simple method.

A few days later she telephoned Lois shortly after breakfast. I've a beastly cold," she said, "and I'm going to stay in for a day or two. I wonder if you'd call Dr. Randolph's apartment and tell him that I shan't be down? You might ask him to send me something for this cold."

Lois called Dale Randolph and delivered the message. "I'm going to call on Miss Todd in a little while," she said. "I'll see that she has everything she needs."

"I may run out this afternoon," he told her.

"She'd be de— she'll appreciate that, I'm sure," murmured Lois.

By tea-time Sally's cold had almost disappeared. She insisted that she felt well enough to dress and have tea in the living-room.

"Why not recline on the chaise longue and look pale and interesting," suggested Lois. "Dr. Randolph will wonder whether you've been sick at all, if he sees you at the tea-table."

"Shucks," said Sally. "He sees plenty of pale, interesting-looking women. Don't forget that this chap's a doctor. No sir! I'm going to dress and tell him that his medicine was wonderful — fixed me right up."

When Dale Randolph arrived, Lois ushered him into the living-room and then went to prepare tea. She returned to find him giving Sally a detailed account of an operation that he had performed that morning. Sally wore a long-suffering look. He had hardly inquired as to her health.

Lois tried to guid the conversation into more general channels. Then, to her dismay, she noticed that Sally remained silent. She remembered that Sally read very little and that she seldom went to the theatre to see anything except musical comedies. So conversation about books and plays and art was beyond her. She never traveled and she knew nothing of politics.

Lois then left the conversation to take care of itself, and it languished terribly. Dr. Randolph seemed to have very little to say, and apparently he had forgotten Sally completely. When he left, Lois shook her head.

"He was so silent that I almost think he must be in love," she said.

"Maybe he is," said Sally, who had not failed to notice the way he looked at Lois. To herself she said: "How can any woman be so blind?"

France Puzzled By Hero's Wish

PARIS, (UP) — The wish of Marshal Petain, heroic defender of Verdun, that upon his death he be buried among the half-million French soldiers, sacrificed in repeated repulses of German attacks and now lie in battlefield cemeteries there, may prove difficult.

The government has pointed out that a special decree would be necessary before Petain can be buried among his men. By law, there have been no burials in the battlefield cemeteries since October 1919.

The law stated specifically that only soldiers who died in the service between August 2, 1914, and October 24, 1919, could be buried in the army cemeteries.

It was pointed out at the Ministry of Pensions, today, that an exception may be made in the case of Marshal Petain, however.

Petain now 74, was a colonel when the war broke out. By June, 1915, he was already in command of the Second ... ruary 1916 when ... started his drive ... tain was sent to ... fense. A vigorous ... turned a hopeless ... rousing victory.

MENLO PARK

About fifty residents of Stanford Park attended a special meeting called by the city council Tuesday night to determine the quality of street improvements to be made in that locality.

After Mayor Weeden had called the meeting to order and stated its purpose he called upon City Engineer Mehl to give a detailed statement of the contemplated improvements and their character.

He said that the 26-foot strip of pavement in the streets as planned would cost $106 for a fifty foot lot, while the complete improvements, consisting of curbs and gutters and paving the full length of the street, including storm sewers would amount to $175 a lot, Mehl strongly indicated his preference for full improvements. He was clear and precise in his explanations.

A full discussion of the question was had as the property owners were called upon by the mayor to express their views.

Thomas Furman explained to the gathering that he had ascertained from his banker that banks will not make loans on partial improvements, but would on complete work.

Kenneth Manning, representing the Allied Arts Guild, favored the strip pavement but was not opposed to the finished product.

Professor Bowers advised the taxpayers to adhere to full improvements as the value of each lot would go up in value and the good streets would lure home seekers.

Mr. Armstrong stated that the strip pavement would endure for 22 years but that type of improvement was obsolete. He urged the better improvements.

Dr. Blakemore declared the value of property would raise when the streets were completed and the curbs put in. He favored full improvements.

Mr. McDonald was among those who urged complete improvements. At his request the city engineer said that the difference between the two plans was $7.50 a year on each lot. The city engineer also made the statement that payments on the assessment would not start until January 1932.

F. W. Johnson thought that much benefit to Stanford Park would result by the permanent improvement.

Others who spoke in favor of the finished plan were J. Stevens, A. Seiler, Mr. Lourie and Mr. Taylor.

The mayor called for a vote on the question. Forty voted for complete improvements, while three voted against the proposition. It was a full and free discusion and all left the meeting feeling fully satisfied.

The territory to be paved lies between the creek and Middle avenue and from the state highway to Arbor avenue, ten streets in all. Approximately 17,740 lineal feet.

Next Tuesday night plans for adoption will be presented to the council by the city engineer. At that time the day will be set for hearing. Mr. Mehl believes work will be started by the first of the year.

The council feels that a step forward has been made by the co-operation of the people of Stanford Park in authorizing the type of work contemplated.

Mayor Weeden congratulated the taxpayers for their co-operation and loyalty to their district.

The National Council of Catholic Women will hold a food sale in the Murray building near the postoffice tomorrow morning. Home-made cakes and pies and bread will be offered for sale at reasonable prices. Get your Sunday supply of sweets and be happy.

Frank J. Sullivan, who passed away in San Francisco, was widely known here. He was a candidate for congress on the democratic ticket in the early eighties. His opponent was C. N. Felton of Menlo Park. It was a bittle battle, Felton winning by a few votes. Sullivan ran again two years later and came so close to the goal that a contest took place in congress, Sullivan winning at the end of the session. He served a month. Felton afterwards went to the senate. In the sixties, Sullivan's father bought a tract of land below the Bay road and later sold it to James Flood. The elder Sullivan built a home there where he entertained his friends. Ducks were plentiful in those days and many a cold bottle and hot bird were enjoyed in the cosy home. Those were the days.

Contractor Cain is busy on Hoover street and will shortly complete the work. The weather favors him and he is rushing work while the sunshines.

Mrs. James T. O'Keefe Wednesday afternoon entertained the members of the Women's Catholic Union at a whist party at her home on Glenwood avenue. About fifty guests were present. After the game refreshments were served.

Judge Hoss, as head of the employment bureau, is rendering a splendid service in securing employment for men. He has a knack of getting jobs. The community owes him a debt of gratitude. Mr. Hoss is not only a good magistrate but a fine solicitor for positions for those who need them.

The estate of Mrs. Anne Marie Lalau, who died in Menlo Park October 16, is left to the husband Elie Lalau of the Radio Service Station on the highway at Middle avenue, according to the will filed for probate in the superior court last Friday. The estate consists of community property in Menlo Park. In addition to the husband, the deceased is survived by a son, Jean, by a first husband, and a daughter, Elsie, and a son, Louis, by her second husband.

Dud de Groot's gridders from Menlo Junior College defeated the Junior College of San Mateo last Friday by a score of 21 to 0. The victory was duly celebrated at the local school. De Groot is a former Stanford coach.

The marriage of a local man and Palo Alto belle is soon to be announced. Who are they?

James Murray, the turkey man, is rapidly disposing of his fat gobblers with wattles hanging to the ground. Murray's birds are the best in the country and are bringing fancy prices. He knows how to feed them.

Ward E. Monroe is chuckling to himself today for early next week he is to close a real estate deal that will bring him a profitable commission.

The total rain fall for the season is 1.65 inches as against twenty hundredths of an inch at this time last year. Jack Frost has made his appearance and this means more rain. The tomatoes succumbed to the frost during the week. The vines became black. The season was a good one for the farmers and some fine profits were made. The run was unusually long as the frost generally comes the latter part of October.

The quail season opens on December 1st. The police department has been instructed to protect the big covey in and about town. Chief Love loves the birds and will throw his protecting arm about them.

The big game tomorrow will lure hundreds from here to the California bowl. Stanford will win. The team is better trained and in finer condition than the California University eleven. All Menlo Park is pulling for Stanford.

WOMAN'S CLUB HAS PILGRIM PROGRAM

A Pilgrim Program of music followed the business meeting held by the Redwood City Woman's Club today.

Mrs. Roy Hohberger is director of the choral section which carried the major portion of the following program.

Part I. Pilgrim Psalm—tunes sung in the old manner—
"Coronation."
"Old Hundredth."
"Chester."

Chorus.

Part II. Foreign influence—
a. "The Glory of the Lord" (Messiah) ..... Handel
"He Was Despised" (Messiah) ..... Handel
Mrs. Herman Phillips, contralto; Mrs. R. Pollock at the piano.
b. "My Mother Bids Me Bind My Hair" ..... Haydn

Chorus.

c. Andante from Fifth symphony ..... Beethoven
Mrs. William Steele and Mrs. Dudley Moulton.
d. "I Attempt from Love's Sickness to Fly" ..... Purcell
"My Days Have Been So Wondrous Free" ..... Hopkinson
Mrs. Klyne Headley, soprano; Mrs. R. Pollard at the piano.

Part III. Songs for "Modern Priscillas"—
"Little Brown Baby" ..... Bassett
"Snow Song" ..... Foster
"Hymn of the Pilgrims" (A. D. 1620) ..... MacDowell

Chorus.

Members of the chorus are Mrs. G. Chevassus, Mrs. H. A. Clttenburg, Mrs. C. L. Dimmitt, Mrs. H. H. Duncan, Mrs. F. W. Harden, Mrs. Klyne Headley, Mrs. J. S. Heath, Mrs. J. T. Heiry, Mrs. C. J. Lander, Mrs. C. A. Litton, Mrs. A. E. Meyers, Mrs. Roy Peterson, Mrs. Herman Phillips, Mrs. C. I. Rider, Mrs R. D. Squires, Mrs. A J. Stebenne, Mrs. H. E. Simpton, Mrs L. K. von Savoye, and Mrs. R. Pollock, accompanist.

Additional guest cards may be secured from Mrs. Sanford Dole.

The chorus was dressed in Pilgrim costume—the gray dresses with white surplices and long white aprons, white stockings and black low shoes.

The stage setting was the interior of a Pilgrim home. A cozy fireplace with a hanging crane and black kettles, the old colonial furniture and spinning wheels made an interesting background for the entertainers.

The club house was filled to capacity and much interest was taken in the heirloom quilts and antiques.

The tea hostesses were Mrs. Max Bartell, Mrs. G. Chevasuss and Mrs. E. J. Hartney.

Mr. George A. Merrill of Wellesley Crescent left last night for Bakersfield on a business trip.

Mrs. Richard Seaton and daughter, Elaine of Los Angeles, are house guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Sidney North of Edgewood Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Calden of Piedmont were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin S. Grandi on Finger avenue last Sunday.

Mrs. C. H. Stevens is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Catherine Geselbracht, this week at her home in Wellesley Park. Mrs. Gaselbracht is from Chicago, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Hallett and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Smith of Palo Alto motored to Sacramento last wek end and visited Mr. and Mrs. Clement Hallett.

Mrs. Lionel Barneson has returned to her home in Los Angeles after spending a week with her sisters, Mrs. Charles Lambert and Mrs. Harry Hallett. Mrs. Darrell Callan, formerly of Belmont, was also a visitor from Los Angeles.

Mrs. A. E. McNeely arrived the fore part of the week from Nevada, where she spent the summer visiting relatives, and will spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. S. L. Netherton at her home in San Carlos Gardens.

THOSE LYING TALES!

Confidentially They Whisper a Lie In Your Ear the way of those who had rather misrepresent tell the truth.

h doesn't suit such people as well as to tell that not so. Since the world began the lie has been on of the coward. He detests the truth for it doing of the liar.

nest people are fooled by the liar, and that is harm is done. For every right-minded man n wants to know the truth.

nt a personal message of truth that you may stop the tongue of the liar the next time he undertakes to whisper a lie to you? Do you want to be armed against being fooled by the liar?

I have prepared a question and answer form, a personal message that will make the liar twist and squirm in his embarrassment.

I will be glad to mail this personal message to any one who would like to know the truth.

Cut out the coupon shown hereon and mail it if would like to hear this personal message.

CLARENCE SAUNDERS SOLE OWNER OF MY NAME

Politically Speaking

By HOMER L. ROBERTS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 21 (UP)—Being governor's a tough job, mates. After you're elected your friends pester you for jobs, when you leave office you have to worry about rewarding your good and faithful co-workers.

These are the problems faced just now by Governor C. C. Young and Governor-elect James Rolph, Jr. Rolph must figure out how to distribute patronage and still keep all hands in good humor, while Governor Young must take care of his "official family" before leaving office.

Harold Landreth, young Pasadena attorney who is now the governor's private secretary, will be rewarded with a municipal judgeship in Los Angeles. Vincent D. Kennedy, Sacramento boy who rose from messenger to executive secretary in the governor's employ, will probably become an examiner for the state roalroad commission, a post that pays $8,000 a year. Kennedy was virtually "acting governor" during Governors Young's recent campaign, and it is whispered he has received some attractive offers from large business corporations.

Charles A. Whitmore, Visalia publisher and former executive secretary, was reappointed by Governor Young for a 4-year term as state building and loan commissioner this week.

M. B. Harris, Fresno member of the state highway commission, is to be one of the new railroad commissioners, filling one of the vacancies caused by expiration of terms of Ezra W. Decoto, former Alameda county district attorney, and Thomas S. Louttit of Stockton, both Richardson appointees. Who will fill the other vacancy isn't known, but both Lieutenant Governor, H. L. Carnahan and Senator L. L. Dennet of Modesto are mentioned.

First among the positions Rolph must fill is that of director of finance, so the new official can get to work on the 1931-1933 state budget to go before the new legislature. Rumor persists in identifying Hugh McKevitt, San Francisco attorney, and Hugh Evans, Los Angeles millionaire realtor, with this job. McKevitt, however, may be named attorney for the department.

Three other $10,000-a-year positions are to be filled. They are: Director of public works, a likely candidate being Harvey M. Toy, chairman of the highway commission in the Richardson administration; state highway engineer (friends of C. H. Purcell are boosting him for reappointment), and state superintendent of banks, to which it is rumored former governor Friend W. Richardson aspires.

Advisors of Governor-elect Rolph are warning him against appointing too many San Francisco or Northern California men. But the new governor knows his plums, and it's a safe bet his patronage will be pretty evenly divided.

Some of the others scheduled for appointment are: John McGilvray, Sacramento, for legislative councel . . . Dr. S. O. Walker, Visalia, for director of natural resources . . . William Simon, San Francisco, for state harbor commissioner . . . Mrs. Harry W. Michaels, Los Angeles, and Mrs. Elsa McGinn, San Mateo, for director of social welfare . . . J. J. Smith, Sacramento for warden of Folsom prison, and Sheriff William Fitzgerald, San Francisco, warden of San Quentin . . . Alex Dulfer, San Francisco, for state printer, although Harry Hammond, Byron publisher, has the position cinched if he wants it.

SECRET STUDY OF ONION GIVES HIM WEATHER DOPE

MARSHFIELD, Wis. (UP)—The concentric layers of an ordinary onion, separated and minutely examined during the last half hour of the old year and the first half hour of the new year provide Ewald Benesch with weather prognostications that have contributed toward his reputation as a weather oracle here.

Each New Year's eve Benesch takes his onion and spends an hour in secret study in the basement of his home. He returns with a weather forecast for the entire new year.

Benesch was so accurate in his predictions for 1930 that his pronouncements for 1931 will be taken by many without reservations.

THE PUBLIC FOOD STORES

During the past eight months, we have reduced prices on almost every item in our stores. Prices are down to bedrock. It is doubtful if they can go lower. I cannot too strongly urge you to stock up with groceries now, as there will be no better time than the present.
You will find all of our regular items priced convincingly low. It will pay you well to purchase your Thanksgiving merchandise at Public Food's regular low prices.

ARMY'S RADIO SYSTEM GROWS

WASHINGTON, Nov 21 (UP)—Rapid growth of the Army's communication system, both wire and wireless, was reflected today in the annual report of Maj. Gen. George S. Gibbs, chief signal officer. The report showed that the Army radio system had more than paid expenses during the last fiscal year.

Traffic on the Army's cables to Alaska rose sharply and brought receipts of $3,073,109.10, Gibbs reported.

The Army radio net, during the last fiscal year, Gibbs said ,handled 50 per cent more government business than in the preceeding year. If the traffic had been paid for at commercial rates, it would have cost $550,000. Operating expenses were $425,000, including pay and allowances of enlisted men.

During the year, the report said, direct communication was established for the first time between Washington and San Francisco over Army radio. This was made possible by the erection of 10 KW high frequency transmitters at both points. Similar stations are being erected at Honolulu and Manila.

The outstanding need of the signal corps, Gibbs said, is the erection of new quarters for the Army Signal School and the Signal Corps Laboratory at Fort Monmouth. These institutions house more than $1,000,000 worth of valuable radio equipment, hazarded by the inflammability of the buildings, Bibbs said.

Arrangements have been concluded during the last year for the Army Amateur Radio System, intions, to co-operate with the American Red Cross in the event of an emergency, Gibbs said.

FORD SEEKS WOODEN BRIDGE

BOA TAKES FIRST MEAL

PARIS, Nov. 17(UP)—The giant boa of the Jardin des Plants museum took his first meal, this week, after being captured some months ago in the forests of Borneo. The snake was taken prisoner as it finished swallowing a young deer in a single meal. For months the snake digested its one meal and refused to eat until its three-months' digestion was ended.

CHILDREN'S BOOKS NOW FEATURED BY PUBLIC LIBRARY

Since Children's Book Week was first instituted twelve years ago, the interest in books for young people has greatly increased and their production and sale has doubled. Better and more attractive books continue to be published largely as a result of this annual event. More and better books in the home library, the public and the school library, are the objectives toward which this nation-wide observance of Book Week is directed.

Co-operating with libraries, the schools, clubs, and churches all help to create this wider interest in better books for children. Juvenile literature now has more expert attention than ever before and represents an increasingly superior quality.

Since the right book background is one of the best equipments for life that can be provided for any child, libraries endeavor to circulate only the most worthwhile books. The local Public Library is exhibiting some of the most attractive of the recent books for young people during the present Book Week, and is circulating suitable lists as a guide to parents and teachers.

All those interested in children's books are cordially invited to visit the library this week and at anytime. Miss Harper and her staff will gladly give any advice desired regarding the most suitable books for children of any age.

Following are some of the young people's books added to the library shelves during the past month:

WOODSIDE

The Woodside Parent-Teacher Association is making extensive preparation for its annual bazaar to be held on the evening of December 5. In past years the bazaar has always proved a large social and financial success and it is believed that the one this year will not fall below the record in either regard. There will be a 'country store' as well as the usual fancy-work table, 'white elephant' table, candy booth and other attractions. A new feature will be the potted-plant department, where the amateur gardener may replenish his stock of spring and summer flowering plants.

After the bazaar, there will be a session of cards for those who wish to take a hand, and refreshments will be served in the dining room. The affair will be held at the school auditorium and the doors will be open at 7:30.

Officer Clarence Wikoff rescued from utter lonesomeness a Ford coupe that had been heartlessly deserted just off the Hooper road near the Canyada on Tuesday last. The license number showed it registered in the name of Ermel Ingram at San Francisco. Wikoff brought the waif to the Woodside Garage, where it might have the company of its kind on these cold and frosty nights.

Rupert Bradley has returned from Lake Tahoe, where he went early this spring determined to remain as long as the weather permitted.

The Stanford football team is again searching the Portola hills in quest of pepper and ginger. If they are successful in their search as they were two weeks ago, they should give a good account of themselves on Saturday.

In those years when the Big Game is played at Stanford stadium there is much local preparation for the occasion. All the country homes in Woodside hold open house and guests are entertained before and after the game. But this year with the game taking place at Berkeley, Woodside remains with its quiet undisturbed.

CENTER, Neb. (UP)—One of the oldest "going concerns" in Nebraska is the old Santee Indian mission located in Knox county. The mission was established in 1870 and is still imparting instruction to Indian boys and girls of Northern Nebraska.
